

HASSLE-FREE RENOVATION

All Canadian Renovations is a good company to know when you are thinking about a home renovation project. These pros offer a one-stop-shop where everything is under a single roof. This means consistent work that is a team effort.

With many satisfied client come many positive comments:

"They are as hassle-free as you will ever find in the home renovation trade."

"They have their own designer, carpenters, plumbers and electricians. We dealt only with their renovation consultant, making it as stress-free as possible."

Central to their philosophy is getting the job done properly from the beginning. And, while this might seem like a given, they may take a portion of the job beyond code requirements to insure the reno you get done today lasts into the future. Their reputation has been earned by not accepting lesser quality solutions when their experience tells them otherwise.

Their crews of trade professionals and sales people have an incredible breadth of expertise that is rolled out to every job they do. They don't claim to be the lowest priced renovator, but their value equation is pretty hard to match.

All Canadian Renovations is a Certified Master Renovator, a member of the Manitoba Home Builders Association (MHBA), and was awarded the Better Business Bureau's Torch Award in 2011.

"We work with many of Manitoba's top architects, designers, developers and engineers, and specialize in bringing your dream home to reality. Whether it is a bathroom renovation, kitchen update, rec room or addition, we assist our customers through all decisions. From design and colour to cabinetry and tile, we will ensure that the final result reflects our clients' vision."

A CHANGE FOR THE BETTER

"You talk, we listen," says Doug Sanders of Change of Blinds, a leader in Winnipeg's window covering trade. Doug and his team offer a vast assortment of blinds and shades in a wealth of colours, fabrics and materials from North America's top suppliers.

"We come right into the home with a free consultation where we discuss your window covering needs. We then select the correct type of window treatment with just the right options. This process allows customers to have a better understanding of what proper window coverings can achieve with much smaller costs in comparison to many other home renovation projects," he says.

These days, people are looking for simpler solutions that are low maintenance with easy clean features. His customers are also looking for products that prevent harmful UV rays from damaging furniture and help keep homes cool in the summer and warm in the winter. Even technology has stepped in to take window coverings to a new level, where integrated software allows homeowners to operate motorized blinds and shades with Smartphones and other mobile devices. Change of Blinds has the solutions with expert advice on all fronts.

"We can look at your existing windows and discuss the right type of product to work with your awning, casement or bay window," says Doug, mentioning that a good measurement at the beginning helps keep costs and timelines in check. "We work with your décor budget and provide all the options to make your choice of new window coverings a choice that lasts and delivers value for years."
